

“A WILLOW DERBY”

2023 INTERNATIONAL WILLOW COLLECTORS CONVENTION

July 12-15

Hello Willow Collectors!

The IWC Board is excited to invite you to IWC's 38th Annual International Willow Collectors Convention: “A Willow Derby,” July 12-15, at the historic Campbell House, a Curio Collection Hotel by Hilton, located just minutes from downtown and the Blue Grass Airport.

As you'll see in this PDF document, we have planned a lot of great events for our willow weekend. Please read the information carefully, as some things require you to sign up in addition to the main registration fee. Come early or stay after and enjoy some of Lexington's unique hospitality. Head to visitlex.com and learn more about planning a longer stay.

Everything you need to register for this convention is in this PDF. Early Bird Registration is $225 per person when postmarked on or before May 12, 2023. Postmarked on May 13 and after is $250 per person. All registration forms must be returned and/or postmarked no later than June 12, 2023. Please note as you make travel plans, the convention starts on Wednesday evening and ends on Saturday night. There is an optional area tour that begins early Wednesday morning.

Your registration covers all convention events and includes seven meals, but breakfast is on your own and available in the hotel or surrounding restaurants. The area tour and two craft sessions are an additional fee.

The IWC Convention hotel room rate is $119.00 per night, plus any taxes or fees. This rate is offered two days before and two days after the convention dates. All events take place in the hotel. Please make your hotel reservations as soon as possible with the information noted in this packet. The hotel reservation deadline is June 25, 2023 – after that time, we cannot guarantee the rooms or our special rate.

As a special giveaway....all IWC members with paid early bird registration, will be part of a drawing for one of three oversized room upgrades for the entire convention...for the same regular room rate! (See Hotel Information sheet)

Print this document, fill out the appropriate pages and mail them back with your check or money order according to the information included. Look for the  at the top of pages that should be mailed back with payment.

After we process your registration, we will email you a “2023 IWC Go List” of the events you have signed up to participate in. Print and keep it handy so you know what to pack for the trip. It becomes a great checklist so you don't forget anything.

This year, we have decided to email registration packets to members to save on expenses. This PDF is also available on our newly-designed website (willowcollectors.org) under the Conventions tab (2023 Convention). If you have a problem printing this PDF, please contact us.

As we lead up to the convention, remember to check your emails often as that is how we will correspond with members and attendees. If you know someone who might like to join us, you can direct them to our website.

We look forward to seeing you this summer. Please contact us with any questions.

Your 2023 Co-Chairs, Jeff Siptak, willowware@aol.com, 615-330-8308

IWC Guest Policy, as adopted by the IWC Board of Directors July, 2009

A guest is a spouse, relative or friend who comes to the convention with a fully paid IWC member. The member will pay for the fees on the member's registration form. The name of the guest is listed with that IWC member's listing in the program by name. The guest will be entitled to attend all events and programs accompanied by the member. If attending the auction, a guest may place a bid on any item, provided the sponsoring member agrees to be responsible for any unpaid auction tickets or NSF checks that IWC may receive. No guest will be entitled to vote on motions or participate in any discussion during the IWC annual business meeting.

Note: Please fill out one separate form for each guest(s) at different addresses. Guests of an IWC member do not have to be members of IWC to attend. Add all guest registration totals to member registration.

Here is an overview of the things we have planned for you!

Tuesday, July 11

If you are joining the Horse Farm Tour, it's best to make plans to arrive today so you're ready Wednesday morning.

Dinner (So we can reserve space, confirm your participation on page 3)

If you're in time for dinner, join us at a nearby restaurant (yet to be decided). We'll get together around 6:00 pm in the lobby. Open to all members and guests. This dinner is optional and at your own expense.

Wednesday, July 12

For those arriving throughout today, you can explore the area (see visitlex.com) or settle in and visit with other attendees in the lobby or the Barrel Room, where you'll find puzzles, cards and dominoes. Hotel rooms will be available at 3:00 pm. Convention packets will be available for pick-up in the lobby at 4:00 pm.

Horse Farm Tour + Lunch + Shopping (Additional registration. See Convention Tour information sheet on page 9)

Each year, we plan a pre-convention tour that highlights in some way the city or area we're in. So, what comes to mind in Lexington, Kentucky? Horses, of course. Make plans to join us for a day with Unique Horse Farm Tours, a top-rated tour company, where you'll get the chance to see actual working horse farms up close and personal. We'll enjoy a lunch buffet at the Brown Barrel in Midway, KY, and then have some time for antiquing and shopping before heading back to the hotel (around 3:00) to get ready for the evening's opening reception. Seats will be limited on several mini buses and will be on a first-reserved and paid-for basis. We'll meet in the hotel lobby around 8:00 am. (leave at 8:30).

A Willow Derby Reception (So we can allow proper display space, confirm your Show & Tell participation on page 3)

For those of you not attending the Horse Farm Tour, the official convention begins this evening at 6:30 pm with our welcome event. You'll be our special guest, where we'll meet and greet, show and tell, and enjoy some hors d'oeuvres. If you'd like to make your own derby-style hat, do so and wear it tonight! Remember to bring any type of willow from your collection for Show & Tell. This is your chance to share some things that are exceptional, unusual, a great buy or have a wonderful story. Both members and guests are invited to bring items. Only willow-pattern-related items are allowed; please no other patterns.

The IWC Raffle (Confirm you are donating raffle items on page 3)

A traditional event that takes place throughout the weekend is our raffle. Attendees buy tickets with all proceeds going to IWC for the chance to win donated willow prizes. We ask you help us in two ways: 1) that you buy tickets during the convention and, 2) that you donate willow-related items for the raffle. Please consider your donations; everyone appreciates winning nice items. At the discretion of our raffle team, some items may be vetted or grouped together, or used in other ways throughout the convention.

New! 50/50 Raffle

A new event for this year, the 50/50 Raffle allows you to buy tickets and possibly be the lucky winner of half the total amount raised...in cash! The other half goes to IWC. The more tickets bought the more amount we raise!

Thursday, July 13

Welcome to your first full convention day!

Speaker: Hugh Sykes — “Crown Lynn - A New Zealand Story”

This presentation highlights the importance of the Crown Lynn factory, which included production of Blue Willow, to the Maoris people. I will discuss how it became their favorite pattern and how it was used for many different cultural events.

Speaker: Nancee Rogers — “Is This Willow?”

Many of us have attended a sale advertising willow, when lo and behold, the items are Spode Italian, Blue Onion or heaven forbid, Cornflower Corningware! Whether on Facebook or at a meeting, I am frequently asked, “Is this willow?” The answer to that question was my mother-in-law’s life research. Whether you are new to willow or a seasoned collector, enjoy our simple journey through Standard Willow and the ten variants Connie Rogers defined for us. Gain confidence so you can decide if it’s willow, a different Chinoiserie pattern, or just a lovely piece of blue and white!

The Willow Pavilion

After lunch, head over to the Willow Pavilion, where you’ll find:

Throwback Thursday—2000: (So we can allow proper display space, confirm your participation on page 3) Remember Y2K and all the new millennium fun? The theme of our convention that year was teapots. We’re looking back with a special display of willow teapots and want you to participate. Bring a teapot or even several, we’d love to see them!

Roundtable Collectors Showcases: New in the Willow Pavilion this year is a set of round table collector showcases, featuring IWC members with a special display of some type willow they collect. Walk around the room and visit with them, sit a spell, ask questions and learn about some unique collections. Featured this year:

Edie Cronk: Booths
 Michael Curtner: Crown Staffordshire
 Paul Kirves: Pub Items
 Zeke Jimenez: Books
 Judy Cail: Staples and Repairs
 Don LaFont: Baby Bottles & Invalid Feeders
 Christy Sturtevant: Frog Mugs
 James Cail: Early Spode
 Charles & Zeta Hollingsworth: Colorful Pekin
 Robert & Judy Prophet: Buffalo Pottery

* Would you like to be a featured collector next year? Let Jeff know!

Willow Auction (You must pre-consign your items. See Auction Consignment and Auction List forms on pages 13-14)

As evening nears we’ll be ready for one of our most popular events, the Willow Auction. After a short preview, it’s all paddles up for a night of fun bidding and treasure finding. Hundreds of items are set to be sold, giving each of us the opportunity to go home with wonderful willow to add to our collection. People entering items in the auction to sell must register in advance. Sellers keep 80% of the selling price and 20% stays with the organization. Some items may carry reserves and others may be designated as donations with all proceeds going to IWC. Donations are always appreciated as IWC retains 100% of the selling price!

Friday, July 14

We know you'll be having fun...here's your Friday!

The Flea Market (If selling, you must register for this event. See Flea Market Seller Agreement form on page 11) We'll start today with our flea market event. Here you can set up as a seller or just shop for items priced at $30 or less. It's a fun sale that features a little bit of everything—all at prices you can't beat. This is a great time of bargain hunting!

Speaker: Jeff Siptak — “A Present From: Gifts and Souvenirs in the Willow Pattern”

No tourist destination is without them, and there are many tourists who certainly can't live without them. Taking home souvenirs is as much a part of the trip or vacation as the seeing the site or place itself. To some, it is perhaps even more special, as it is a forever reminder of where they went and what they saw. In this lecture, I'll briefly discuss souvenirs and their history, and we'll see some willow-related examples from around the globe including some from my personal collection of Victorian “A Present From” china. You'll also hear what one TV personality has to say about souvenirs — let's see if you agree or disagree!

IWC Business Meeting and Lunch

Be sure to attend our annual business meeting to support IWC. You'll hear reports from our board members, elect upcoming board positions as needed, and make important decisions about our organization and its future. Attendance pins will be awarded and upcoming conventions will be announced and discussed.

Craft #1: Decoupage Blue Willow Oyster Shells (Sign up with additional fee on registration form) You've seen them! You love them! Now you can make them! Join Brenda Hoffer and Peggy Grimes as they take you through the steps to make these small willow treasures. You'll make two shells that can be used as small ring or jewelry dishes, paperweights on desk or simply as home decor.

Willow Arts & Crafts Contest (So we can allow proper display space, confirm your participation on page 3) We welcome all artists and crafters to enter our Willow Arts & Crafts Contest with an item(s) you have made, painted or otherwise crafted. Past entries have included blankets, paintings, sculptures, embroidery, cross stitch, painting, decal decorations, knitting, etc....whatever is “your art” we'd love to have you share and enter it. You can enter as many items as you like. Keep in mind, all entries must be willow themed. Attendees will vote on their favorites and we'll announce the top three winners for cash prizes! If you have questions about how this works, just ask!

Place Setting Competition

(So we can allow proper display space, confirm your participation on page 3)

Create a beautiful place setting using willow dishes and other items. You will be limited to one half of a 60-inch round table. The theme of your display is up to you, but feel free to use this year's derby theme if you'd like. Later, we'll ask you to create a title for your setting. You can enter as many settings as you like. Keep in mind, all entries must be willow themed. Attendees will vote on their favorites and we'll announce the top three winners for cash prizes! If you have questions about how this works, just ask!

Saturday, July 15

All great things must come to an end. Here's what's planned for our last day!

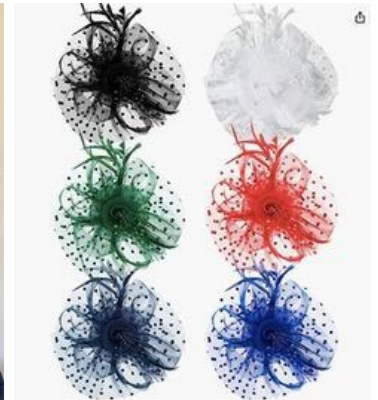

Grand Willow Sale

(If selling, you must register for this event. See Grand Sale Dealer form on page 12)

We begin the morning with our Grand Willow Sale! It's the most awesome sale of willow you'll ever see! An entire room filled with blue and white – and other colors as well – and it's all for sale. Shop the many tables of fabulous pieces of willow and find something special to add to your collection!

Craft #2: Willow Derby Fascinators (Sign up with additional fee on registration form)

Make your personalized willow fascinator to wear to the Derby After Party Banquet! Start with a pre-made fascinator in one of six assorted colors (clip and headband included) and embellish it with a willow paper teacup or teapot (provided) that you fold together. If you have extra “bling” such as beads, feather, etc., feel free to bring from home. Several IWC fashionistas will be there to assist you — Jen Cather, Marianne Elsmann, Daisy Eden and Lisa Fellers.

Christmas in July Gift Exchange (So we can allow proper space, confirm your participation on page 3)

Enjoy a gift exchange with a twist! To join the fun, bring a wrapped or bagged willow gift with a value of $25 to this event as we participate in a little “Dirty Santa.”

Derby After Party Banquet

Come in your “derby finest” if you’d like. Wear your newly-made fascinator or a flashy derby hat. We’re planning a special dinner just for you as we bring our convention to a close. We’ll celebrate a fun and fabulous four days, our new willow treasures and, most of all, all our willow friendships. We’ll also share some special recognitions and enjoy a game with prizes after dinner.

Please note: Events and order are subject to change.

About Unique Horse Farm Tours: The guides at Unique Horse Farm Tours have deep Lexington roots. What does this mean for you? Exclusive access to places other tours can't go and insider knowledge that only natives and those closely tied to the industry can share. See why guests come back again and again for a truly Unique Horse Farm Tour.

About Midway: Historic Midway was the first town in Kentucky founded by a railroad, but the town's history began long before that when it was inhabited by Indian Mound Builders. In 1978, 176 buildings in Midway were placed on the National Register of Historic Places. Now, Historic Midway once again thrives and enjoys its present reputation as one of Kentucky's favorite spots for antiques, crafts, gifts, restaurants and clothing. Several freight trains still make use of the active tracks running through Railroad Street, preserving Midway's unique history and atmosphere.

About the Brown Barrel: Situated on a site where bourbon was distilled for more than 100 years, the Brown Barrel offers a nice selection of great appetizers and meals for every taste and mood, all in a casual atmosphere. For our visit, they will prepare a lunch buffet.

If you wish to donate an item, this will be greatly appreciated and will also go directly to the IWC Convention. IWC reserves the right to determine the number of lots in the auction and may refuse any item that is submitted and determined not suitable for the auction.

Note: Consignors will receive their net proceeds by the end of convention

(I/We) commission International Willow Collectors (IWC) to sell the items listed on the Consignment List form to the highest bidder, at the 2023 International Willow Collectors Willow Auction, Thursday, July 13, 2023.

(I/We) certify that (I/We) are the owner of all the listed goods, merchandise and/or property and hold good title and the right to sell.

(I/We) further certify that the listed goods are free from all encumbrances. (I/We) agree to hold harmless the Auctioneer(s), the IWC Convention Chair(s), The Campbell House and all representatives of this organization, for any damage, loss or claims of the nature referred to in this agreement.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

Please do not send your auction items, but instead send your completed Consignment List to Jeff Siptak as noted on the form. Once received, all items will be assigned lot numbers and we will send you numbered stickers to affix on your items. Then bring your items to the convention. It is imperative that you prepare and return your list of items, whether you consign or donate items, so that we can have enough time to prepare the lot numbers and listing of items in the program.

If you should have any questions concerning the auction items or the process, please feel free to contact Jeff Siptak at (615) 330- 8308 or willowware@aol.com.

IWC Cancellation Policy, as adopted by the IWC Board of Directors, July, 2008

The convention chair(s) will calculate the appropriate dates for his/her convention and publish the refund schedule and cancellation phone number(s) in the registration packet.

- There will be a refund of the registration fee given if the convention chair(s) is notified on or before the early registration deadline.
- For cancellations made after the early registration deadline date and no later than two weeks prior to the start of the convention, a refund of all registration fees minus a $50 cancellation fee PER EACH REGISTRANT will be given.
- NO refunds will be issued for cancellations made two weeks or less prior to the start of the convention.

Convention registration fees will be refunded according to the following schedule:

Cancellations made on for before May 12.....	Full Refund
Cancellations made May 13 through June 28.....	Refund, minus $50.00 per person
Cancellations made June 29 and after.....	No Refund

We are very sorry, but no exceptions will be made.

Due to possible errors and delays when using emails and/or U.S. mail, cancellations must be made by telephone to the convention chair(s) or when the convention chair cannot be reached, the alternate board officer listed. A verbal confirmation by the convention chair or board officer is required. Appropriate documentation will be made of the refund on the registration form.
